

JOHN J. CHUNG

Roger Williams University School of Law
Ten Metacom Avenue, Bristol, Rhode Island 02809
jchung@rwu.edu
401.254.4688

Education

Harvard Law School, J.D. 1985 cum laude

Washington University, St. Louis, Missouri, B.A. 1982 summa cum laude
Phi Beta Kappa, Economics major

Articles

A Fundamental Flaw with UNCITRAL's Approach to Cross-Border Secured Transactions: The Failure To Address Creditor Due Diligence Issues, __ Am. Bankr. Inst. L. Rev. __ (forthcoming)

Chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code and its Implicit Assumptions regarding the Foreign Exchange Market, 76 Tenn. L. Rev. 67 (2008)

Customary International Law as Explained by Status, Instead of Contract, 37 N.C. J. Int'l L. & Com. Reg. 609 (2012)

From Feudal Land Contracts to Financial Derivatives: The Treatment of Status through Specific Relief, 29 Rev. Banking & Fin. L. 107 (2009) [published by Boston University School of Law]

Money as Simulacrum: The Legal Nature and Reality of Money, 5 Hastings Bus. L.J. 109 (2009)

- Discussed on the website, The Conglomerate, on June 7, 2008
- Discussed on the website, Concurring Opinions, on July 2, 2008
- Discussed on the website, Balkinization, on February 20, 2009
- Cited in three law review articles (other than my own)

Promissory Estoppel and the Protection of Interpersonal Trust, 56 Clev. St. L. Rev. 37 (2008)

- Cited in three law review articles (other than my own)

The New Chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code: A Step Toward Erosion of National Sovereignty, 27 Nw. J. Int'l L. & Bus. 89 (2006)

- Cited in seven law review articles (other than my own)

The Retrogressive Flaw of Chapter 15 of the Bankruptcy Code: A Lesson from Maritime Law, 17 Duke J. Comp. & Int'l L. 253 (2007)

- One of 14 papers selected for discussion at the Roundtable on Cross-Border Resolution of International Financial Firms on November 15, 2010, conducted by the Center for Law & Economic Studies at Columbia Law School
- Cited in seven law review articles (other than my own)

The United Nations Compensation Commission and the Balancing of Rights between Individual Claimants and the Government of Iraq, 10 U.C.L.A. J. Int'l. L. & Foreign Aff. 141 (2005)

- Cited in four law review articles (other than my own)

Academic Employment

Roger Williams University School of Law
Professor (July 2012 to present)
Associate Professor (July 2006 through June 2012)

- Courses taught include Contracts I and II, Bankruptcy, Secured Transactions, and International Law. Also supervise student independent research and writing projects involving a variety of business-related legal issues.
- Voted “Professor of the Year” by the graduating Class of 2009
- Voted “Professor of the Year” by the graduating Class of 2012

Stetson University School of Law Foreign Study Program in Lausanne, Switzerland
Lecturer (“Selected Legal Issues of the United Nations; Summer 2012)

University of Connecticut School of Law
Visiting Professor (Spring 2012)

- Taught Sales and Secured Transactions

University of Connecticut School of Law
Visiting Part-Time Lecturer (Secured Transactions, Fall 2010)

Northeastern University School of Law
Visiting Part-Time Lecturer (Bankruptcy, Summer 2010; International Law, Summer 2012)

Presentations

Testimony before the United States Senate Committee on the Judiciary at its field hearing in Rhode Island on December 4, 2008 on “Credit Cards and Bankruptcy: Opportunities for Reform.”

Other Professional Employment

United Nations Compensation Commission (“UNCC”), Geneva, Switzerland
Legal Officer, February 2000 to December 2004

The UNCC was formed to process claims and award compensation for losses resulting from Iraq's invasion and occupation of Kuwait in 1990. Duties included the review and administration of claims for construction losses, Kuwaiti corporate losses, and individual losses (the aggregate amount of which exceeded $1 billion). The work involved the development and application of new international legal guidelines to govern mass claims processing in the context of a new forum to address such claims.

Katten Muchin & Zavis ("KMZ"), Los Angeles, California

Partner, February 1995 to December 1999

Associate, July 1993 to January 1995

KMZ was a national law firm with over 350 lawyers in four offices (it has since changed its name and increased its number of offices and lawyers).

My practice involved a wide range of trial, arbitration, and appellate work. A significant area of my practice was the representation of secured creditors (large institutional lenders) in actions to enforce their rights in state and bankruptcy courts against debtors in default. I also handled a wide variety of business disputes, including breach of contract cases for major entertainment clients.

Dewey Ballantine, Los Angeles, California

Associate, August 1987 to June 1993

Chambers of Senior U.S. District Judge Albert Lee Stephens, Jr., Los Angeles, California

Judicial Clerk, May 1986 to June 1987

Duties included preparation of memoranda and draft opinions in connection with the Judge's duties as a visiting Judge on the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit.

Widett, Slater & Goldman, P.C., Boston, Massachusetts

Associate, August 1985 to May 1986

From January 2005 to June 2006, I lived in Geneva, Switzerland and engaged in independent research and writing in order to prepare for my attempt to enter the legal academy. During this time, I wrote my first two law review articles.

Experience (in all years of private practice) includes role as lead trial counsel in trials in U.S. District and Bankruptcy Courts, and role as appellate counsel in California and U.S. courts. Experience also includes the taking or defending of over 100 depositions, and the closing of a corporate asset sale.

Professional Activities during Practice

Panel Member for jury trial seminar at international lawyers conference in Santa Monica, California, 1998. Conducted mock jury trial before the Honorable Lance Ito for the benefit of attendees of conference.

Conducted mandatory continuing legal education seminars on taking and defending depositions on behalf of local bar organization, 1996 and 1997.

Member of Use of Force Task Force of Los Angeles Police Commission, 1996

Purpose of task force was to monitor response of Los Angeles Police Department to issues raised by Christopher Commission Report concerning police use of force. This Task Force was formed to address community issues in the aftermath of the Los Angeles riots.

Bar Memberships

Admitted to practice in Massachusetts (active)

Admitted to practice in California (inactive)